Seminar: Presentation Skills

Seminar: Presentation Skills

Introduction:

Many people have a fear of presenting in public. This program is designed to take the fear and stress away from presenting by offering a series of tools and techniques that facilitate great presentations. The ability to present ideas and concepts is an increasingly valuable skill within the modern workplace; further it is required at all levels within the organization. The ability to influence groups of people and create a momentum for action is rewarding, both for the individual and the organization. For many, the challenge is to develop the confidence to present. Whether you are a seasoned orator or a novice, you can improve your business presentation skills and enhance your personal credibility through planning, preparation, and practice.

In this program, participants will practice presenting in a supportive environment and learn how to structure their materials to create engaging presentations that inform, educate, and entertain their audiences. They will learn how to use body language, the importance of tone and projection and the paramount need to make a good early impression. This course builds on existing skills and seeks to enhance performance and develop confidence by providing a structured approach combined with practice sessions and focused feedback. The program seeks to build a perception of presenting as a means for delegates to meet their professional goals and not an exercise that creates fear and apprehension.
