Judiciary System In Special Economic Zones

REF: U2274 DATE: 16 - 20 December 2024 Venue: Madrid (Spain) - Fee: 5300 Euro

Introduction

Special economic zones SEZs are designated geographic areas that offer special incentives to businesses, such as tax breaks, relaxed regulations, and access to foreign capital. As a result, SEZs are often seen as a way to promote economic growth and development.

The judiciary system in SEZs is typically different from the judiciary system in the rest of the country. This is because SEZs are often subject to their own laws and regulations. As a result, it is important for businesses operating in SEZs to understand the unique legal environment.
